

Year of the Snake

Digital Program

Dear you,

Growing up, art has always filled our households, shaping the way we celebrate, remember, and create. From the rhythmic folding of dumplings to the red silk of a qipao, each tradition is a masterpiece in motion—a living, breathing form of storytelling passed down through generations. Art is not only what we see but what we inherit, what we pass down, what we make anew.

Though we're far from home now, home could never be far from us; we invite you as not just a guest but a member of our found family here at Penn. This party is our way of saying 新年快樂 and embracing both culture and community alike.

Tonight is more than just a celebration of the new year; it is a reflection of who we are, of the ways we carry culture forward while making it our own. We hope to remind each other to take up space, to keep creating, and to celebrate identity boldly. This is our take on the most joyous celebration of the year, and we hope you felt that joy in spending the night with us.

Love Endlessly,

Special thanks

Thank you to all our performers who made our night magical, every single person who helped with setup, the lovely members of the Herzog Collective, our favorite bartenders, Isabelle Wang for the beautiful mural, and PCC for contributing the most auspicious 春聯.

Photography

We will upload photos as soon as we receive them! Please be on the lookout for an update to the Herzog Collective Linktree. Thank you to our photographers and videographers <3
